

Garden Club President Feted

Mrs. Eli Manchester, president of the Cohasset Garden Club, was presented with a bouquet of flowers by the children of the Joseph Osgood

School during the Arbor Day celebration. The Garden Club has completed a two-year landscaping project on the grounds of the school. The children gathered around a brightly colored maypole, holding streamers and singing songs they prepared for the occasion. The flag was raised as they sang "You're A Grand Old Flag." Songs were played on xylophones. The second graders sang "Friendly Neighbors" in honor of the Garden Club. Third graders sang the poem, "Woodmen, Spare That Tree" as the girls danced about the maypole, decked out in flowers in their hair and about their waists. The children sang "Winter is Over, Comes the Month of May," and "Woodley."

The 24th Annual South Shore Arts Festival will be held this year from June 30 to July 8 at the South Shore Art Center. The juried show includes the categories of oils, acrylics, drawings, prints, watercolors, pastels, sculpture, photography and original crafts. The festival will be held at the center instead of the Common, as in previous years, in part because of the expense of renting tents.

Appearing in the presentation "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" at Hingham High School on June 9 as Snoopy will be Linton Young of Linden Drive.
